

I am a neuroscientist with an interest in neurodegenerative disease. I pioneered the interest of metals in Alzheimer's disease with the first report of Abeta being precipitated by zinc. I have worked extensively on the role of zinc trafficking as contributing upstream factor in Alzheimer cognitive loss and contributed to zinc as a potential target for neuropharmacology.